

RESIDENTIAL DIVISION

Alan White celebrates his 40th year with the Group in 2007 and becomes Chairman of the Residential Division which he has been involved with throughout that period. His guidance has led the Division from strength to strength and he has been instrumental in developing its expansion into Yorkshire and the South-East.

As a member of the Main Board since 1987, his commitment to the success of the Group resulted in his appointment as The Emerson Group Deputy Chairman in 2002.

Parklands Cheadle Hulme

The Residential Division of The Emerson Group was founded in 1959 and has therefore established experience in all facets of residential development.

From sourcing land, obtaining planning permission, designing and constructing through to the marketing and selling of new homes, Jones Homes has, over many years, established a reputation synonymous with creating homes of character in highly desirable locations and is now one of the leading developers in the country.

The six principal divisions of Jones Homes

